iOS Filmmaking with Jack Kelly
Saturday October 17, 1-5pm

Unlock your inner Ken Burns or Steven Spielberg!

Are you ready to make your first film but don't have thousands of dollars to spend on gear? With iOS Filmmaking you will learn how to turn your iPad or iPhone into an HD digital video powerhouse. This four hour workshop will give you hands-on experience in digital filmmaking and editing. You will learn the basic concepts of video production and you will learn how to edit your video using the iMovie for iPad app.

We start by covering the basics concepts of filmmaking. You will learn about composition, shot types, sequencing, and interviewing. We will also demonstrate optional gear you should have for your iOS device.

Then we "go into the field" and capture a series of video clips on your iOS device. We will also show you how to get better manual control of you iOS camera through two very affordable camera apps. (Hint: you might want to purchase the Filmic Pro Camera app for $7.99 from the Apple App Store.)

Back inside, we will cover how to edit your film using the "iMovie for iPad" app. This will be an informative tour of the iMovie editing features and how to use them. (Hint: you might want to purchase the iMovie for iPad app for $2.99 from the Apple App Store.)

Finally, you will edit your short film using your clips set to music, and possibly voice-over narration. And then we sit back and enjoy our films.
